1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species J, figures 34-36 and 42-44, in Paper No. 9 is acknowledged. Upon further review, it has been determined that the species shown in figures 37-39 and 45-47, previously indicated as Species K, is not patentably distinct from the elected species and will be examined therewith. As indicated by applicant, claims 38-40 read on the elected species. Claims 1-37 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.
2. The two references crossed-off of the information disclosure statement filed 11/4/02 have not been considered because they are the same references cited on the IDS filed 4/12/02.
3. Figure 40 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
4. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 126, the reference to numeral "14" should be --914--.

Appropriate correction is required.

5. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

6. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

7. Claim 39 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. There is no support in the specification that the species shown in figures 34-39 and 42-47 has a lift height detecting section such that lowering of the fork is prohibited upon detection of the fork height above a predetermined value.

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claim 38 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Anderson et al (US 3,666,052, cited by applicant).

Anderson et al show a forklift truck having body 10 and forks 15 mounted for vertical movement along a mast 12 by a lift unit 14, wherein the inclination of the forks about pivot point 16, 16b is detected by sensor 18, 18b such that lowering movement of the forks is prohibited upon detection of fork inclination beyond a predetermined angle, such as upon encountering an obstruction.

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claim 40 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Anderson et al in view of Ryan (US 4,762,203).

Anderson et al do not disclose stopping the forward or backward movement of the vehicle upon detection of fork inclination beyond the predetermined angle.

Ryan shows a similar lift truck lowering system wherein sensors determine if the lift carriage has encountered an obstacle during lowering thereof. If such an obstacle is detected, both lowering movement of the carriage as well as movement of the vehicle is prohibited.

It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the apparatus of Anderson et al by adding a vehicle stop section to prevent movement of the vehicle upon detection of fork inclination beyond the predetermined angle, as shown by Ryan, as this would simply be a well known safety expediency for use in the same environment in the event an obstacle is encountered during lowering of the lift forks.

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
